Dear Martinsburg Borough Residents,

AMED is pleased to announce that we will begin service to your community on January 1, 2026. AMED was appointed the primary emergency medical services (EMS) provider for Martinsburg Borough, replacing Hollidaysburg American Legion Ambulance Service (HALAS). This transition follows an agreement between the Borough and AMED to ensure long-term, dependable, and high-quality ambulance coverage for all residents.

No Disruption to Emergency Services

We want to reassure all residents that there will be absolutely no interruption in emergency medical service during this transition. AMED ambulances will respond from the current Martinsburg EMS station located at:

303 West Allegheny Street, Martinsburg, PA 16662

To dispel any rumors, AMED will also continue to operate our EMS station in Roaring Spring.

As always, please continue to Dial 911 for all medical emergencies. Blair County's 911 dispatch system will automatically coordinate responses with AMED to ensure prompt and professional care.

Our Commitment to Martinsburg

AMED is a well-established regional EMS provider delivering Advanced Life Support, Intermediate Life Support, and Basic Life Support ambulance services, along with community first aid and CPR education. Our organization is staffed by highly trained paramedics and EMTs who operate modern, fully equipped ambulances.

With strong regional staffing and rapid response capabilities, AMED looks forward to serving the residents of Martinsburg, as we do throughout Blair County and the surrounding region.
